IMAC Regeneration Centers Will Provide Veterans with the Opportunity to Supplement Their Healthcare within an Established Network of Civilian Care Providers

BRENTWOOD, Tenn, Nov. 05, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- IMAC Holdings, Inc. (Nasdaq: IMAC), a provider of innovative medical advancements and care specializing in regenerative rehabilitation orthopedic treatments without the use of surgery or opioids, today announced that the U.S. Department of Veterans' Affairs has named IMAC Regeneration Centers as part of its Community Care Network, which provides Veterans the opportunity to supplement their managed healthcare with established networks of civilian care providers.

"We work directly with the VA to provide Veterans who experience chronic pain and movement-restricting conditions with the best access to medical treatments, physical therapy, occupational therapy and chiropractic care as part of our work as a Veterans Affairs Community Care Network provider. We are dedicated to ensuring these Veterans receive timely, high quality care through our non-surgical, non-opioid regenerative rehabilitation services," stated Jeff Ervin, CEO of IMAC Holdings.

"In addition to providing services to these heroes, we are particularly proud to employ multiple Veterans of our Armed Services in our treatment centers, who understand firsthand the conditions Veterans may experience," said Matt Wallis, President and COO of IMAC Holdings. "Offering our Veterans viable solutions from diagnosis of the underlying causes of their pain, to offering innovative and unique treatment solutions is what makes IMAC Regeneration Centers special and we are gratified to be working with the Veterans' Administration under this program."

During the coming months, IMAC Holdings will also increase its efforts to raise awareness and appreciation of our nation's Veterans through local outreach programs around its centers in Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri. In addition, the company recently donated more than $5,000 to the PGA Reach Foundation, which supports PGA HOPE (Helping Our Patriots Everywhere). PGA HOPE introduces golf to Veterans with disabilities to enhance their physical well-being.
